The Military Musicians are to give a dramatic entertainment at the Garrison Theatre on Monday evening, when the bill of fare will consist of 'Cool as a Cucumber' and 'Nine points of the law.' Both pieces are of the kind in which the 'Musicians' appear to the best advantage, and the entertainment will doubtless be worthy of a good house.

There is apparently one youth in Hongkong who has not been persuaded that marriage is a failure. We observe in 'Totipot's Matrimonial Agency' the following notice:

Ralph, aged 25, tall, fair, good-looking, holds fair position in Hong Kong (China), would like to correspond with a well-bred and accomplished young lady, not older than himself. Please inclose photo, which will be returned if desired, and address, in strict confidence, to 'Totipot's Matrimonial Agency.'

Will none of Hongkong's well-bred and accomplished daughters come to the rescue of 'tall, fair, good-looking' Ralph?

A somewhat mysterious case is reported from West Point. A married woman residing there states that her husband disappeared on the 18th inst. and that a friend of his has received a letter stating that a reward was offered by the Chinese authorities for the arrest of the man and that he has been handed over to them, his capture having been effected by enticing him to a house in Wanchai, where he was dragged, and from which he was then carried off in an unconscious state and given over to a district Magistrate in Kwangtung who was desirous of getting hold of him. The police are investigating the affair.

Mr. Wedhouse was engaged to-day rehearsing a case in which a few days ago he sentenced a stonecutter's apprentice to twelve strokes of the rattan for assaulting a woman. From the evidence it appeared that on the date of the alleged assault a number of stonecutters who were at work at Lap-sap-wan made offensive remarks to several women who were passing, and that a row ensued, in the course of which the defendant struck one of the women on the head with a chisel. His Worship, after rehearsing the case at the request of Mr. Denney, who appeared for the defence, confirmed his previous decision. The new Magistrate Ordinance gives the Magistrate power to order a flogging in cases of this kind, where actual bodily harm has been inflicted, and his Worship said he thought this was a case where that power ought to be exercised. Mr. Denney intimated his intention to appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Java mail which arrived at Kota Rajah in Aceh at Christmas time was found to be short of two packages containing 82,000 guilders of Government money in bank notes. Five packages of notes had been sent, the value being 200,000 guilders. The steamer was searched, and the police left no stone unturned to find the missing packages, but all inquiry proved fruitless. Naturally, the system of sending packages of bank notes as ordinary mail matter has aroused adverse comment.

During the stay of the steamer Menamur at Delhi, a port in Timor, the islanders opened negotiations with the chief steward for the purchase of a sheep. The steward declined to sell straight off, but signified his willingness to 'take time' for the wool-producer, and the natives agreed. In fulfilment of this agreement the Malays handed up three poor loads of sundries, comprising a goat, several pigs, dozens of poultry of all descriptions and fruit enough to keep the steamer supplied for a fortnight or three weeks. All for one insignificant sheep. At the same ratio a flock of 50 sheep would about purchase the whole settlement.

A crowd of Chinese spectators who aimed at profiting by scarcity of rice at Surabaya have come to grief. The Surabaya Correspondent says that when once it became known that the rice crop in the neighboring districts was likely to fail, a famine was expected. Chinese agents at once set to work in importing heavy stocks of grain from Siam, Saigon, &c., in the hope of high profits from the starving people, but disappointment befell them owing to the tobacco crops in the stricken districts proving abundant enough to meet the scarcity of food. The importers now find all the foreign rice on their hands, with every chance of losing largely by the speculation, as the Siam rice, for instance, deteriorates with long keeping.

FRAZAR the last proportion of the territories under the Government of India in which we might expect to meet a railway, observes an Indian contemporary, would be Aden. We hear, however, that it is now under consideration to construct a railway at that place to connect the areal in the Indian with the Port of Aden. Of course the railway will be purely a military work for more efficiently completing the defence of Aden. It was intended, we believe, at first, to also have a line from Sheikh Othman to Steamer Point, but as this proposed line was not a military necessity, and the anticipated traffic trifling, it has been abandoned.

Two chair-coolies, in the employ of Mr. Kelly, broker, who were charged some time ago with causing the death of another chair-coolie in the same employ, were brought before Mr. Wise at the Police Court to-day, on remand. It was alleged that the defendants had beaten the deceased, and several marks of blows were found on his body, but those appeared to be too slight to have caused death. There was also a supposition that the deceased might have taken poison. To-day, Mr. W. E. O'Leary, Government Analyst, said the contents of deceased's stomach had been sent to him for analysis. He found traces of moric acid—one of the principal constituents of opium—present, but in such minute quantity that he could not say it would cause death. The defendants were then discharged.

The Sanitary Board will meet on Monday next. The following are the Orders of the Day:

The President will move—

1. That the powers of the Board as specified in section 2 of Ordinance No. 26 of 1890, be delegated to the Sanitary Superintendent in the manner therein provided; and that the Superintendent shall report to the Board at each meeting the particulars of every action he may have taken since the last meeting under the powers hereby delegated to him, stating his reasons for taking such action as well as the result of the action so taken.

2. That the list of persons that has been made with a view to giving effect to section 49 of the Health Ordinance (No. 24 of 1887), be approved, printed and a copy given to any person applying for a licence.

Agenda.—1. Superintendent's Report for December, 1890.

2. Surveyor's Report for 1890.

3. Letter regarding Slaughterhouse for Kowloon.

4. Letter regarding the erection of a public latrine.

5. Memorial Petitions for weeks ended the 10th and 17th January, 1891.

The financial crisis in New York continues. Stearns & Co., bankers of that is feared that other firms will follow. General Booth's scheme for rescuing the streets of England is meeting with hearty approval and support from all classes of people. Over ninety thousand pounds have already been subscribed. The features of the scheme is the founding of communities in the British colonies composed of these rescued paupers. This part in the scheme excelling much criticism, and it is suggested that the colonies are all too likely to supply natives, and fall in with a proposal involving an introduction of such a description of a "pauper."

The spreading the Irish party still continues, and now promises to resign the leadership of the party, provided the Government will consider it.

The London & York Railway for the past nine months shows an increase of ton (two) millions on the amount received during the same period last year.
